

Aref:

Aref is a tech genius. At the age of 5 he built his first website. at 7 he programmed and launched his first satellite, which he is in constant contact with through his backpack, which contains a satellite dish, as well as other high-tech inventions. He has programmed his 'hover board' so that he can control it with telepathic thought alone. Being such a genius lets him hack into all sorts of everyday objects, and he is constantly on the lookout to keep the children of Oman safe from bad-guys- giving them clever tips for every situation.

Zerro:

Zerro is from a galaxy light years from earth and on his planet everything is robotic and everything is connected. The animals, plants, insects and all forms of life on his planet are similar to earth- but completely digital. Zerro arrived here after his spaceship malfunctioned, and he stopped on Earth to repair it. While here , he became fascinated by human and has vowed to use his advanced technology to protect children while they are using telecom services. He hopes one day that the children of Oman will help him repair spaceship so he can return home.

CHARACTER 3:

